Intent & Voice

WHAT EXPOSURE IS

A three-day endurance experience by 29029. The brand stands for raw effort, heat, and shared resolve.

VOICE

Plain. Direct. Confident, not loud. Short sentences. No hype words.

Say what a thing is and what to do with it. Skip filler.

DON'T

Don't use exclamation marks. Don't romanticize suffering. Don't use stock corporate language.

Logo

MARKS

Two approved marks: the wordmark (EXPOSURE) and the primary lockup (EXPOSURE by 29029). The triangle is a graphic device, not a logo. Don't use it on its own as a brand mark.

CLEAR SPACE

Always leave one triangle-height of space around any mark.

FILES

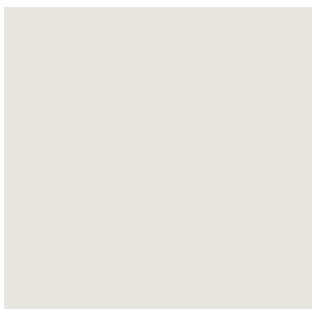

SVG and PNG, in light and dark variants. See EXPOSURE Logos.zip.

APPLICATION

Off-Black and Off-White are the base. Red is for emphasis only — use it on one element per view. Gold is an accent for the thermal gradient and small flourishes. Don't use it for text on backgrounds.

Typography

TYPEFACES

Canela Light for titles and pull quotes.

PP Neue Montreal for everything else — body text, labels, and buttons.

SIZES

Display: clamp 2.5 - 4 rem, line height 1.05. Body: 14 - 16 px, line height 1.55.

Eyebrows: 10 px bold uppercase, letter spacing 0.28 em.

LICENSING

For brand use only. See EXPOSURE Typefaces.zip.

Imagery

SUBJECT

Real moments from the experience. Hands, gear, the mountain, fatigue, relief. Always natural light.

TREATMENT

Warm grade. Slight grain. No heavy filters. People are not models — show effort and presence.

DON'T

No stock photos. No motion blur for its own sake. No people staring straight into camera unless intentional.

Textures

THERMAL GRADIENT

Heat moving from off-black through red and gold. Always grainy — never a clean gradient.

APPLICATION

Use for backgrounds and key art. Behind text, keep the gradient dark enough to read.

Use one texture at a time. Don't stack them. See EXPOSURE Textures.zip.
